If I Have but a Moment - 1 beck on me? \(mf\) The world demands my time for many passing things, The given me, \(mf\) And all around me there is need unmeasured still, The Savior bids me choose the better part, Shall I hasten on to answer silent grief, the bitter word unsaid, Shall I go unknowing on my common calls, or shall I pause to ease the aching heart? If heedless way, or shall I seek to dry the tear unshed? If I have but a moment, shall I let it pass away? Can I think to do His work another time, another day? If I have but a moment, could I lift a load of care? If I have but a moment, are there words of hope to share? If I have but a moment, is a

1. moment not enough to do the gentle work of love?

2. In love?
